

S. M. Gilbertine Principal; Six Faculty Members Change

Sister M. Gilbertine, chemistry and physics teacher here for the past ten years, has been appointed principal of St. Anthony High. Sister succeeds Sister M. Helen and likes to work with SAH's students. I love St. Anthony and, of course, the youngsters. They make the school." This favorable opinion was expressed by Sister M.

Matilda, one of six new members of the St. Anthony faculty. Sister Matilda, who is teaching Latin in 218, was previously in Wisconsin. She taught Latin and English but enjoys Latin best.

Sister M. Petrann is the new general business and bookkeeping instructor at St. Anthony. Sister used to teach an all-girls' commercial course in Chicago. In one sense however, Sister Petrann's change wasn't too large, as she was transferred from St. Anthony in Chicago to St. Anthony in Detroit.

The vacancy left by our new principal, Sister M. Gilbertine, was filled by Sister Anton De Padua from St. Mary in Burlington, Wisconsin. Sister was a chemistry and physics teacher there and was in charge of the camera club. She enjoys teaching anything in the field of science.

St. Anthony has acquired a handwriting expert in the person of Sister Mary Charitas. Sister, whose hobby is analysing handwriting, comes from Sacred Heart School at Laurium, Michigan. Besides being principal of this school she taught English and math. Sister likes SAH very much and thinks the students are very cooperative.

New priests at St. Anthony are the Rev. Russell Friedrichsen and the Rev. Raymond Shultheis. The Rev. Ronald Schiml, who taught human religion last year, is the new athletic director.

Staff Members Attend Course

Three St. Anthony students, Lynnette Bielat, 217, Anne Ziebron, 217, and Judy Meyers, 214, attended a special short course in journalism at Michigan State University, June 25-July 6.

Lynnette and Anne represented the staff of the Antholite, while Judy was sponsored by The Prelude.

During their two week stay, the girls lived in a dormitory and attended regular classes on the M.S.U. campus.

"I think we all learned quite a bit in the short time we were there," said Judy, "but I do hope I'll have the opportunity to go back again sometime."

Frosh or Frog?

Freshman Carol Gloss, 119, jokingly played leapfrog over a fire hydrant and ended up with a black eye and swollen and scratched face, leg, and arm.

The accident occurred last week as the green frog, freshie rather, lost her balance when trying to vault the hydrant and fell to the sidewalk in front of her friend's house.

Former Staff Sees World

Rome is now the home of Sister M. Helen, where she teaches French and English at Instituto Notre Dame.

Sister M. Helen is now principal of St. Alphonsus, Chicago, Illinois. She had been principal here for three years.

The only Sister remaining in Detroit is S. M. Constance who now teaches business subjects at St. Mary's Commercial as well as acting as principal.

Former C.S.M.C. moderator, S. M. Melora now teaches at Notre Dame High School in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Beauty Finalist At State Fair

"It was thrilling, really thrilling," bubbled Barbara Lukasik, 214, 17-year old St. Anthony junior.

From 37 other contestants, Barbara claimed second place in the Miss Michigan State Fair Contest, Sept. 6.

Winners were chosen for personality, confidence, poise, and appearance.

As a participant in the contest, she was in the Labor Day Parade and attended a dinner at which Gov. G. Mennen Williams presided.

Preceding the state fair, Barbara was named "Miss Linda Lee" in a contest sponsored by the Linda Lee shops in and around Detroit.

SAH Clubs Name '56-'57 Officers

Since the speech class was dissolved, the advisor of the speech club, S. M. Edgar, was transferred, no plans are being made to reorganize the dramatics club, The Spotlighters.

S. M. De Padua, new science teacher at St. Anthony, has taken the place of S. M. Gilbertine as advisor of the camera club.

New officers of the music club are: Janet Gaynor, president; Joanne Shubnell, vice-president; Virginia D'Andrea, secretary, Judy Kolley, treasurer.

Teutons Beat St. Charles 41-14, Lose to St. Catherine Warriors 6-0

By LARRY BURCZ

Returning from last week's loss to St. Catherine's, an inspired St. Anthony football squad came back last night in the old Teuton fashion to trounce St. Charles 41-14 at Mack Park.

Mission Crusade At Notre Dame

"It's a fine way to get together the kids who are interested in mission work," said Lorraine Skiba, 114, of the August 23-26 CSMC convention at Notre Dame, Indiana.

The four days and three nights at Notre Dame University were an "unforgettable experience" to the four boys and four girls to represent St. Anthony.

Attending the convention were Donald Trappe, 215; Barbara Harper, 215; Ed Moltane, 215; Walter Meiers, 219; Lucy Barnaba, 314; Pat Koch, 314; Lorraine Skiba, 114; and Don Mordell, 117.

The purpose of the convention was to propose plans of mission action for CSMC members and to inform the delegates of the principal problems and opportunities in the mission apostolate.

Virginia D'Andrea Reigns At Oct. 5 Homecoming

Virginia D'Andrea has been acclaimed Homecoming Queen. She will be crowned by Co-captains Roland Stevenson and Ray Dettloff at half-time of the Homecoming game with Servite, Oct. 5 at Mack Park.

Red-and-White Cheering Squad Reorganized

"That's going to be tough," was a comment by an unidentified student, upon hearing regulations from the constitution of the newly established junior and senior cheerleading squads.

Each of the two cheering squads consists of 10 girls, and is advised by Sister Mary Matilda, 218.

The members may not miss any games. They may not hold an office in any other organization. Each cheerleader must maintain a "C" average.

The new uniforms consist of maroon culottes and white turtle neck sweaters.

Captain Janet Gaynor, Pat Barry, Barbara Tomczak, Arlene Novack, Marge Prybys, Judy Kolley, Judy Hafford, Joan Gillam, Barbara Maciak, and Anne Ziebron compose the senior squad.

Junior yell-leaders are Captain Loretta Bidolli, Josephine Schmidt, Lucille Gough, Phyllis Valente, Helen Grimaldi, Elizabeth Klein, Josephine Burns, Gail Manning, Mary Ann Vialletti, and Margaret Mozer.

Report Card

Roughly two-thirds of the school (63 per cent) saw St. Anthony's victory Sunday night, but three-fourths (74 per cent) watched their defeat by St. Catherine.

Juniors attended both games in great numbers, 81 per cent the Sunday before and 73 per cent last Sunday.

Members of her court are Joanne Shubnell, Elaine Van Herreweghe, Janet Gaynor, and Barbara Harper.

Before the game the co-captains, as representatives of the entire team, will present a bouquet of 36 roses to the Blessed Mother. Each of the roses is for a member of the team and one for Father R. Schiml and the two coaches.

Slisinger's Flowers, 13450 E. 8 Mile Road, will donate Virginia's crown.

Seniors Plan Freshman Mix

A freshman-senior get-together will be the first project of Senior Class Officers Roland Stevenson, president; Joan Gillam, vice-president; Judy Kolley, secretary; and Sally Gepp, treasurer.

Other seniors elected to form the Senior Council are Robert Gherardini, Dave Brower, Dan Schmidt, Judy Pomaville, and Tina Cicillini.

Planned for today, the mixer will last from 12 to 2 p.m. Entertainment, dancing, and refreshments will enliven the atmosphere.

Homemaking New Subject

Homemaking, a subject open to seniors, has been added this year to the St. Anthony curriculum.

Sister Mary Cordula instructs the class of 19 girls interested in learning more about the finer arts of homemaking. These future housewives study the proper methods of cooking, sewing, entertaining, interior decorating, and caring for a family.

Football Preview

St. Catherine — One touchdown made the difference in a game the Teutons should have won.

St. Charles — Making up for their first defeat, the Teutons roared to a victory that really looked good.

St. Ambrose — After a year's experience at their new type of play, St. Ambrose should be better than last year and may have some tough competition.

Servite — This is the team to beat this year. With a strong team and very few losses as far as players are concerned, Servite will probably be about the best in the league.

St. Florian — Always a pretty consistent team, St. Florian most likely will offer the same type of competition as in previous years.

St. Stanislaus — This team shouldn't be too tough because they are not a very strong team.

St. Ladislaus — Though in the bottom of the league last year, St. Ladislaus have a fighting team who can be tough to beat.

Dampened Spirits

“OUR TEAM MAY BE SMALL but it has spirit,” were the words of Coach John Shada at the first pep rally of the SAH football season, held Friday, September 14.

Father Raible, Father Schiml, and the co-captains agreed with the coach, and with the new squad of cheer-leaders St. Tony relied on victory, not by experience and skill, but by spirit.

Came the game Sunday, came spirit. Spirit in the form of the student body, in the form of the ‘mum sellers,’ in the guise of cheer-leaders, and of players. But also came spirit-chasing rain. Rain which sent fans scampering for shelter. And the cheerleaders cheered on. But the spirit had been felled and St. Anthony was defeated 6-0 by St. Catherine for the first time in six years.

Summer Tempest

SUMMER IS OVER and as students settle back into their routine they can look back on a multitude of varied and hectic events.

This old world of ours, too, seems to be settling down after an equally varied and hectic summer.

Perhaps the biggest tempest in the iced tea pot was Nasser. He started out as something of a hero to his people and idealist to the rest of the world.

Under his leadership, Egypt's independence was established and her economy was on the way up. He was now planning to build the Aswan High Dam for which he received offers of financial aid from both the West and Russia. Here our hero begins to play both ends against the middle. He started dealing with Russia in the hope that the U. S. might come to better terms. Secretary of State Dulles, however, was having none of it so he withdrew the U. S. offer. Nasser's pal, Russia, then stated that he had no intention of financing the dam.

Nasser of course had to save face with his people. In retaliation, Nasser struck a blow that shook the world. He seized the Suez Canal for Egypt.

While the rest of the world sputtered helplessly, Nasser was quite a big man around his home grounds. Finally the world found its tongue and proposed a plan which included internationalization of the Canal. At last report Nasser was still sitting tight.

With the free nations of the world the picture of indignation, calling Gamel Abdel Nasser everything from a thief to “Little Hitler,” one recalls what the British thought of the American colonists.

Dear Students:

any students are interested in helping us set it up.

We thought of it because students who work in extra-curricular activities don't have any set system of recognition. For instance, someone who spends six or seven hours weekly on Sodality work or CSMC projects doesn't get known outside the organization. Because of that like that deserve credit, and cause we want more of them at SAH, we would like to try something like this:

Points would be given for any kind of extra-school work done during a given quarter. The highest number one person could get from one organization—or many—would be nine. One point will reward a general attitude of cooperation, and without this one it will be impossible to make the honor roll. All those with ten points will be on it, and it will be published with the scholastic honor roll.

At the end of the year, a boy and a girl will be chosen by a student-faculty committee as the most outstanding in cooperation at SAH.

Now, how do you like this idea? And do you have any suggestions?

THE FACULTY

SYMPATHY to S. Mary Anne and Carol Donahue on the death of their fathers.
